

Introduction:

The Government has introduced regulations for gender pay gap reporting for companies in the UK. The following report details the analysis done by Senator International Ltd under these regulations.

Note: We have not included the remuneration paid to shareholders in 2025 as this would materially distort the data produced

Our Approach

As a business we actively promote diversity and equality which is reinforced in our policies, processes and training- for example:

- Our recruitment policy and training promotes equality and diversity and prevents gender bias
- Our leadership and supervisor training includes modules on the importance of inclusion and diversity
- We ensure our job advertisements are non-gender bias
- Our talent systems encourage the progression of female employees

Gender Pay Gap (as at April 2025)

Our average mean gender pay gap is 5.1% and our median pay gap 2.1%

Senator is committed to providing equal pay for equal work. We continually review our pay structures to ensure that we are meeting these commitments.

Our median pay gap is 2.1%. The reason for this difference is that although we reward equal work with equal pay, as we have a significantly higher proportion of males in the business, this is reflected in the number of males in senior leadership positions which attracts higher pay.

Bonus Gender pay gap

Our mean bonus pay gap is -30.6% and our median bonus pay gap is -55.1%.

Proportion of employees who receive a bonus (in 12 months preceding April 2025)

Percentage of male employees who received a bonus 6.4%

Percentage of female employees who received a bonus 6.5%

Employees have an equal opportunity to participate in the roles which attract bonus payments.

Distribution of all UK employees across pay quartiles

	Male	Female
Lower Quartile	67%	33%
Lower Middle Quartile	74%	26%
Upper Middle Quartile	80%	20%
Upper Quartile	77%	23%

The above figures show the gender distribution across our business in four quartiles based on pay bands.

There is a significantly greater proportion of male employees across all levels of our business and this is a direct result of the nature and sector in which our business operates.

I confirm the gender pay gap data contained in the report for Senator International Ltd is accurate and has been produced in accordance with the guidance on managing gender pay.
